

BOYS BREAK JAIL AND HOLD UP MAN TO SECURE FUNDS

Three Saw Way Out of North

Bergen Prison, Then Rob

Victim Nearby.

Having sawed their way out of jail at North Bergen, N. J., after which they held up a citizen and robbed him of money with which to make their way further, three youths are believed to have sought refuge in this city, where search is being made for them. The jail break occurred sometime after midnight, when the keepers were either nodding or asleep. It was hours afterward that it was discovered.

The police had hardly started hunting for the fugitives when Robert Race of North Bergen reported that he had been held up and robbed on the Boulevard between Third and Fourth streets. Three young men attacked him, he said, and took from him $25 and some jewelry. His description of his assailants tallied with that of the jailbreakers. His information led the police on a new scent and the trail led to the ferry.

The jail breakers are Joseph Ruppert, nineteen years old, of No. 549 Garden street, North Hudson; Paul Hindewald, sixteen years old, of Van Buren place, North Bergen; and Walter Kramer, seventeen years old, of No. 62 Adams street, West New York. Ruppert had been locked up for grand larceny and the others for minor offenses.

The three had been placed in adjoining cells. Because of their youth no careful watch had been kept on them. The officer who passed the cells shortly before midnight noticed that the three were apparently asleep. The next round was not made until early in the morning and then the cells were empty. A bar in each cell had been sawed through and the jail breakers had sawed through a bar in a door that led to the street.

According to the officers, not a sound came from the region of the cells during the sawing. There was something of a panic when the discovery was made. All the police precincts in Jersey City were notified, and when it became apparent that the fugitives had come to New York word was sent across the river.

BOY THIEF SAYS MOTHER IS ONLY GIRL HE HAS.

Herbert Foster, sixteen years old, of No. 26 Clinton place, Brooklyn, pleaded guilty before Judge Swann in General Sessions today to the theft of $100 from his employer.

"What did you do with the money?" inquired Judge Swann.

"Spent it," replied the boy. Judge Swann read a list of articles bought by the boy.

"Here's an item of theatre tickets and candy," remarked the Judge. "Who is the girl?"

"My mother," replied the boy; "she's the only girl I have."

Judge Swann remanded the boy to have his story investigated.

His mother, Mrs. Foster, lives at No. 26 Clinton place, Brooklyn.

NEW SUITS AND GOWNS

In Readiness for Easter

No other store in the city is showing as many copies of French model suits and dresses as we have collected here. These are perfect reproductions, changed only very slightly in the few cases where necessary, to bring them within certain fixed low prices.

Chiffon Taffeta Dresses (Illustrated).....$21.74

A soft, pure silk, lustrous quality, in brown, or navy, or black. Made with cream novelty flit plastrons, gathered under a crushed taffeta girde and fastening down the front with pearl buttons that have tiny rhinestone centres.

French Serge Dresses.....$20.74

The dress has cape collar and sleeve facings—the latter very odd—of white eponge, piped to match, narrow revers, and trimmed with numbers of tiny buttons. It buttons on the bias down front with crystal buttons almost to knee depth. Black with royal blue satin revers and piping. Or navy with cherry satin.

A French Model Taffeta Dress.....$39.74

This cleverly designed gown is of chiffon taffeta, with velvet buttons down front and up sleeve to elbow. Moline lace chemisette extends in plastron under scalloped chiffon bertha, which forms a postillion plastron at the back, gathering under silk cords and tassels. Gray, blue, brown or black.

A Border Foulard Dress.....$39.74

Made in the effectively simple style which is so hard to achieve. The foulard is finely patterned on white, with ribbon borders in the pattern color. The border forms a surplice on one side and continues down the skirt. The other side, including sleeve, is entirely of chiffon matching the border. Black, navy, brown.

French Model Whipcord Suit.....$28.74

The original Dr. Oetli is $280. The back of coat is laid in wide tucks.

The tucked revers collar is overlaid with faille silk. Sleeves are buttoned at wrist. As for the apron skirt, which shortens at the back and buttons to one side on a very high girde, it is so "different" that well-dressed women will be sure to appreciate it.

Colors, black, gray, navy.

French Model Serge Suit.....$24.74

The coat of this suit is very good. Made two-button cutaway with button-trimmed panel down back. The wide revers have adjustable over-revers of white eponge. The skirt is trimmed to correspond with coat.

Black or navy.

March, April, May, June are the months when White Serges bloom.

To see the beautiful white cloth suits we have for this Spring is to want them. Every style is here, from the tailored creamy serge to satin-braid-embroidered whipcords and serges that are dazzlingly white because of their crystal button trimming.

A Black-Striped White Cheviot at $33.74 is cutaway, trimmed with pearl ebony buttons. The cutaway skirt has a daring new effect, divided at both sides to show petticoat.

An Elaborate White Serge Empire Suit is $55.75. Skirt of coat and underskirt are embroidered with satin braid. Soft revers and huge melon buttons are of white satin.

The most exquisite White Serge Suit of the season is $74.75. It is very simple, the wide chemise collar extending down in a short, pearl-buttoned vest, and the skirt opening over a pearl-buttoned "small skirt" of the white chemise.

The Newest Fad—Blazer Suits $33.74

Nothing smarter for week-ends out-of-town. The Norfolk coat is of black-and-white narrow striped cheviot, with black-trimmed ivory buttons. The skirt is of white Bedford cord.

Satin Blazer Coats $17.74

Will be worn extensively this season, especially out of town. One other shop in town does show a similar model—at twice this price. We went to much trouble to get exactly the right width of stripes in the satin, then had these stunning de luxe blazers made in regular Norfolk style. Lined with white satin.

The New "Blazer" Sweaters are in at $4.74

Just arrived. You'll vote them the smartest sweater of the Spring. Woven in half-inch herringbone stripes, combining white with black, cardinal, light blue and gray. Semi-fitting, with mannish collar and revers, outside pockets, cuffs.

Spring Lining Fabrics

For Jackets, Coats, Wraps, Etc.

Purchased here cost you almost as little as you would pay if able to buy at the wholesale houses.

We have the most complete lining department in this city, and there is always the inducement of our proverbially low prices for you to count upon.

Other shops offer the inducement of a small commission to professional dressmakers and tailors. We do not discriminate in favor of any one class. Our prices are too low in the first place to admit of that. EVERYBODY reaps the benefit of our cash-purchase-and-sales policy. Our low prices are for all who choose to buy.

The entire range of shades in gray, brown, tan, rose, blue, red, green and yellow is to be had here always, in kid cambrics, percales, satens, moreens, lining satins and satin brocades. Good grades of Peralene are 12c and 18c; of Sateen are 18c and 23c; of Canvases are 19c and 24c; of Alpaca are 46c, 59c and 69c; of Lining Satin are 69c and 89c; and of Silk Lining Satin, $1.19.
